FROM THE EDITOR

This index has been compiled in response to many requests from readers. We are pleased to have this cumulative index as our anniversary project, commemorating five years of publication and the production of twenty issues.

The index is divided into three sections.

PART A: Section Headings

Articles which have appeared in regular sections are listed in chronological order. In cases where articles written by or about augmentative communicators have appeared within the lead article of the "Family and Community" section, the augmentative communicator's name appears in brackets after the article title. In sections where titles were not used, i.e., "Sharing Ideas with Nora", "Blissymbol Talk", a short descriptive title is added to identify the subject matter of each column.

PART B: Author Index

Authors are listed alphabetically. Where authors have written more than once, the articles are listed chronologically. In the case of two or more authors, an article is listed under each author's name.

PART C: Subject Index

Articles have been grouped by subject area, with many articles appearing under several subject headings. Authors are not listed in this section.
